'I cannot express how much the University has prepared me'

Yount is among the nearly 87 percent of the University's 2021 graduate class who are not returning to the classroom. His time at the University, Yount says, enabled him to have experiences, such as his analysis of DNA evidence. "During my training to become a DNA analyst, I still refer to my notes that I took during my time at the University. 'It was a seamless transition from the school world to the work world'."
